PROFILE

Executive Assistant Business Partner with 10+ years supporting C-suite and VP-level leaders in complex, fast-moving environments. Operates at the intersection of operational architecture and strategic partnership — building the systems, networks, and institutional knowledge that keep organizations running smoothly when priorities shift, contexts change, and no one has time to explain the full picture. Known for ramping up fast, connecting dots across teams and timelines, and building tools and structures that multiply impact well beyond one executive.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Executive Assistant Business Partner Jul 2022 – Present

Intuit

Supporting VP of CG Assisted Commercialization (60+ person org). Previously: VP of Core Tax & Monetization; EVP of Intuit Customer Success.

- Serves as the operational nerve center across a wide stakeholder network — coordinating across EAs, Directors, Finance and Sales leads, and external partners to align competing priorities, surface dependencies, and keep multi-team initiatives moving without escalation. Built and maintained a full stakeholder map for a senior leader from calendar data alone, synthesizing direct reports, management chain, cross-org contacts, and external agency relationships.
- Designed and delivered structured daily executive briefs — full day schedule, conflict flags, prioritized action heat maps, stakeholder pulse checks, urgent communications, and a 3-day lookahead — giving the VP a clear operational picture before her day began. Proactively flagged OOO risks, double-bookings, and high-stakes meeting conflicts (CEO Deep Dives, Board sessions, Talent Reviews) before they became problems.
- Pivoted rapidly and repeatedly across changing priorities: stood up crisis response for a high-profile VP offboarding with zero notice — synchronized 10+ stakeholders, migrated calendar structures, and resolved HR system updates within 24 hours. Simultaneously managed live crises including AV failures during Talent Reviews, FBO access issues for executive travel, and last-minute meeting conflicts during travel days — handling each in real time across Slack, text, and phone.
- Built cross-functional meeting architecture from scratch — defined purpose, attendee tiers, and intake templates for new recurring structures across multiple org channels. Coordinated a 9-meeting Account Portfolio Review series across Sales and Finance stakeholders, and a Partnership Deep Dive spanning 4 organizations, mapping each participating EA and offering flexible scheduling options proactively.
- Orchestrated an 800+ attendee, multi-site team offsite at Disneyland: managed $15K in procurement through Coupa, RSVP logistics, individualized accessibility support, and vendor coordination across the full planning cycle. Led the 48-hour peak tax season War Room as primary operational lead — catering, multi-room coordination, and real-time pivots for ~100 team members.
- Ramped up new teammates and ensured continuity without gaps: introduced new team members to key counterparts, created a leader context document for instant knowledge transfer, and handled full delegate access handoff (email, calendar, Zoom) so support continuity never missed a beat.
- Advocated for talent across the organization — proactively lobbied two Directors for a colleague's full-time hire ahead of her interview, unprompted. Wrote formal recognition nominations articulating the business case for EABP investment. Stood up the Directors channel and connected peers across team boundaries.

- Built AI-powered workflows that redefined the EA operating model — daily briefings pulling live data from calendar, email, and Slack; a 1:1 prep generator; meeting note summaries; a persistent action item dashboard — and shared these tools with the broader EABP community. Invited to present at the EABP AI Learning Lab; developed shared onboarding frameworks and prompt libraries adopted org-wide.

Assistant to Port Auditor (Board Appointee) Jul 2012 – Jul 2022

Port of San Diego

Sole support to the Port Auditor, appointed directly by the Board of Port Commissioners. Independent oversight with access to sensitive financial and operational information across the full Port.

- Provided all scheduling, correspondence, and operational support for a Board-appointed executive — sole administrative support across a decade, spanning multiple audit cycles and organizational shifts.
- Custodian of confidential audit records and financial documents; maintained strict chain of custody and compliance with public agency records requirements. Prepared all materials for Board of Port Commissioners meetings and external briefings.
- Reconciled AP/AR, travel budgets, and procurement; coordinated domestic and international travel including visa processing for the auditor and audit team.

Assistant to General Manager Jul 2008 – Jul 2012

Navy Exchange, Naval Base San Diego

- Supported the GM of a high-volume retail and services operation — primary liaison between the GM's office and department heads, vendors, and base command across a complex multi-stakeholder environment.
- Coordinated logistics for leadership meetings, audits, and operational reviews; managed scheduling, correspondence, and operational reporting.

Executive Assistant to Vice President Sep 2003 – Jul 2008

Morris Cerullo World Evangelism

- Full EA support for a VP at a nonprofit with international operations — communications, multi-country travel logistics (visa processing across multiple countries), donor relations, and event coordination.
